GEN. BANKS' CUBAN HENGLITION.
From the very beginning of the restellion in Cuba, Gen. Banks has been the steady and consistent friend of the struggling patriots. Through good and will report he has mannally stood by their cuite in Congress, and never let an opportunity pass of siding them in very way that he could. The resolutions which he introduced on Monday, and which are now pending in the committee over which he introduced on Monday, and which are now pending in the committee over which he introduced on Monday, and which are now pending in the committee over which he isolatons to be accomplish by indirection what has been so often attempted by a loss circuitous route. In view of all these circumstances Mr. Banks' resolutions are most opportune, and it is to be hoped that they will receive a careful consideration and favorable action from Congress. In one point of view they are objectionable, inaccords as they direct a deviation from our traditional policy, that we should have no entangling alliances with European Powers. Mr. Banks does not, to be sure, recan exactly an alliance, but his resolutions, if adopted, would be a step in that direction. The omission of the European Powers would, however, not materially impair their force and efficacy, and on the whole we lithok it would be wise to omit them, and conduct whatever action may be ordered exclusively to American Powers. That would be more in accordance, with our policy, and would answer all the purposes which Mr. Banks hopes to accomplish. The feeling in favor of Cuba is steadily galling ground in the United States, and the days of a meraly passive policy on our pert may be said to be imposed where the togic of events.

REDUCTION OF RATES BY THE WESTERN UNION.

BEDUCTION OF RATES BY THE WESTERN UNION.

The papers have announced a reduction of the telegraphic rates above $2.20 to that sum on all messages not exceeding ten words. The papers have announced a reduction of the telegraphic rates above $2.20 to that sum on all messages not exceeding ten words. The papers have a considerable in the papers of the cause of this great reduction being made at the present time? There can be but one answer to the question. The Western Union Telegraph Company fear that their monopoly is about to be broken up, and that the people are to enter into the eulopment of their rights. They hope by this reduction to allay the growing feeling of resentiment for the rates so long maintained, and at least to declay the passage of the act by which the people shall have a cheap telegraph. It is well, therefore, to consider what this reduction its and over, making the reduction $5 to the more. There is no reduction for night messages. By the rates proposed in the postal telegraph bill the rates proposed bill is much greater than the people and the more distant places, and $2.50 to the hearter. There is no reduction for night messages. By the rates proposed in the postal telegraph bill the rates proposed in the postal telegraph bill the rates proposed by the personnel proposed by the prostal telegraph bill is much greater than that already effected by the Western Union, when the increased length of the message. It would be proposed by the postal telegraph bill is much greater than the consideration.

In the opinion of many of the advocates of In the opinion of many of the advocates of the postal measure these rates are still too high, either for the benefit of the people or of the company, for it is doubtful whether rean now the volume of business will be very greatly increased. But if the rates had been educed to those proposed by the postal bill there can be no doubt that the telegraphic correspondence would many equal that by the mails, and the profits to the company greatly increased, for there are many people in California who could afford to send a measure of tentis-fire words for send a measure of tentis-fire words for sevants-five. in California who could afford to send a measure of twenty-five words for seventy-five cents by night who would be unable to sent the same message under the present rates, which would be over $85. Any reduction in rate which does not greatly increase the business falls of accomplishing the purpose intended, either in satisfying the wants of the people or making it a financial encess. We trust and believe that the friends of cheap postage in the House and Senate will see that the same principle is applied to the telegraph. the same principle is applied to the telegraph and the bill be urged on with greater earnest

We have received a copy of a pamphlet, entitled "The True Method of Representation in Large Constituencies," by a Mr. Clarke, of Oswego, New York. We have not cread the whole of this document, but the following extract will, perhaps, give an idea of what the author is diving at: "Another result of even greater importance to the public selfare would be sure speedily to ensue upon the adoption of this plan. Political parties would come to an end. They are kept alive to-day by politicians and office-seckers. They are, in fact, the strifficial product of political machinery." It is needless to say that we have no faith whatever in Mr. Clarke's plan of true representation. The extract above given is sufficient to convince any one that his true representation is a humbug. All the plane that all the Clarke could devise from this until documeday could not do away with political parties in the United States.
